- Indecomm SaaS technologies enhance mortgage underwriting and risk management, delivering strong efficiencies through automation

Edison, NJ – March 22, 2017 – Indecomm Global Services, a leading provider of business process as a service (BPaaS), software as a service (SaaS) technology, and learning products for the mortgage industry, announces it will be presenting next generation automation technologies in its [Kaizen[®]](#) risk management and [IncomeGenius[™]](#) income analysis mortgage platforms at the Mortgage Bankers Association's (MBA's) National Technology in Mortgage Banking Conference & Expo 2017 at the Hyatt Regency Chicago, from March 26-29. Indecomm executives will demonstrate the advances in their mortgage platforms at Booth 205 and at a special presentation during the General Session: Tech Showcase II on March 28 from 9:15-10:00 AM in Grand Ballroom D. These mortgage solutions automate data comparison and complex underwriting calculations for easier, better, and faster visibility and accuracy in the loan review process.

“I am always impressed by the collegiality and professionalism at this conference as the industry gathers to address its ongoing efforts to enhance efficiency through automation,” said Rajan Nair, CEO, Financial Services, Indecomm Global Services. “Indecomm has long been a contributor to this process. Kaizen and IncomeGenius are our current technologies, which enhance profitability for our customers.”

IncomeGenius is one of the most innovative technologies in the mortgage underwriting space. Its intuitive income alerts engine can compress complex tax returns review time by as much as fifty percent. IncomeGenius achieves this by reading the documents with advanced OCR technology and calculating the income in a consistent manner, and then alerting users to possible red flags.

Kaizen processes loan reviews with speed and accuracy, identifying the root causes of defects before they become systemic. Kaizen leverages technology to verify mortgage data within and between documents in the loan file which results in automated efficiency in any audit.

“There is a continuing demand for mortgage platforms and solutions that go right to the industry’s pain points,” Nair said. “Finding ways to ensure accurate income calculations is critical in the loan process and we expect this to be a significant topic of discussion with our customers at this conference.”

The industry recently recognized Indecomm’s ability to enhance productivity and efficiency with inclusion in the 2017 HW TECH100, a list of the most innovative technology companies in the US housing industry.
