Edison, NJ – Thursday, January 16, 2018 – Indecomm Global Services, a leading provider of business process as a service (BPaaS), software as a service (SaaS) technology, and learning solutions for the mortgage industry, announced today the availability of AuditGenius®, Indecomm's next generation technology solution for automated loan audits and mortgage risk management.

AuditGenius® is the next generation technology of Kaizen® - Indecomm's proprietary, internally used, web-based SaaS solution developed to simplify the loan audit process for effective and efficient mortgage risk management. The genesis of AuditGenius® was the overwhelming need in the mortgage industry to simplify the loan audit process and improve loan quality reporting. This tried and true solution provides a more transparent and efficient delivery of our Business Process as a Service (BPaaS) solutions and is now available to our clients in a Software as a Service (SaaS) model.

"We continuously seek ways to bring about improvements through new technology innovations," said Rajan Nair, CEO, Financial Services, Indecomm Global Services. "Indecomm's AuditGenius® technology for risk management and loan audit automation is built on the latest advancements in Automated Data Extraction and Machine Learning. AuditGenius changes the way loan audits and reviews are done by automating large parts of the process, eliminating redundant touches and providing meaningful insight into loan quality metrics. AuditGenius will lower loan review costs by 30 to 40 per cent and make it possible for lenders to fix data and document quality issues at the front-end of the mortgage lifecycle."

Existing clients will benefit from the updated user experience, additional audit process features, and improved performance. In addition to those benefits, existing Indecomm clients will have the opportunity to subscribe to the AuditGenius® automation and business intelligence modules.

Indecomm has over 25 years of experience in the mortgage loan life cycle, providing outsourcing services to clients ranging from loan set-up, processing, underwriting, compliance, mortgage disclosures, and quality assurance. Indecomm's extensive experience in mortgage lending was the catalyst for the development of next generation technology solutions that support efficiencies, cost-savings, and business intelligence needs.
